A specialist in information technology, Jeanne recently retired as a consultant from Fusion Alliance where she served as Scrum Master and Project Manager on assignment at AK Steel. Jeanne began her career at Givaudan Flavors Corporation. Over a sixteen year period, she gradually took over more responsibility and rose to application support manager. As business analyst at Crane Co, she handled software analysis and documentation at its subsidiary, XOMOX. As a technical release coordinator at Duke Energy, she supervised a multi-tiered energy data management system. Jeanne's skills include using Agile practices to build effective work teams, process integration, business analysis, project management, and team facilitation. She has been recognized for her attention to client satisfaction.

OneSource Experience

As a new volunteer, Jeanne looks forward to putting her skills to work on consulting assignments and stakeholder interviews.
